About Katrina

Following completion of her speech pathology degree in Melbourne over 20 years ago Katrina (Kelso) worked in country Victoria, NSW and Canberra. While working in a school setting in Canberra Katrina really began to develop her now long standing interest in school age speech, language and literacy difficulties. Since moving to Perth in 1991 she has continued to develop her interest in this area through working in school settings (including Language Development Centres), her clinical practice and further study. In 2003 Katrina completed a Masters in Applied Linguistics at UWA in the area of oral and reading comprehension. She has presented professional development workshops and written several papers in the topic area.
