Shauna Brandon is a qualified Speech Pathologist, having completed her Bachelor of Applied Science (Speech and Hearing Science) degree at the Western Australian Institute of Technology (now Curtin University) in 1981.

Since graduating, Shauna has gained over 30 years' experience in helping children and adults with a broad range of speech, language and literacy difficulties. Work places include a range of organizations in the private, as well as public sector, including in the United Kingdom.

Shauna is a member of Speech Pathology Australia. She is also a registered Medicare and Private Health Fund Provider, and has an approved 'Working with Children' Check.

Shauna has provided speech pathology services to schools in the Catholic Education system since 2005. This has included the Kindergarten screening program (over 1000 children) as well as oral language and phonological awareness groups. School-based and home-based services allow liaison with teachers and parents and save time and travel costs. Children also feel safe and secure in a familiar setting.

As a mother of three children, Shauna understands the importance of a strong communication skills and their importance in learning, literacy and life. She is committed to helping children with speech, language and literacy challenges develop and do their best.
